THOUSANDS PARTICIPATE IN GRAND PARADE OF G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Veterans March for Two Miles to Inspiring Sound of Drum and Fife---Greeted by Living Flag of 1,300 Boys and Girls.

Salt Lake, Aug. 11.—Under the all-ervading sentiment: "Cheers for steady beat of feet." pervading sentiment: "Cheers for the living and tears for the dead,' several thousand survivors of the Civil war made their annual march today up and down the broad asphalt surface of Main street for over a distance of two miles, and passed before the reviewing eyes of Henry M. Nevius, their commander-in-chief.

The grand parade of the forty-third strength of the survivors of the national stress of half a century ago.

This feature was due to the fact that the journey to the place of en-campment was a long one to be undertaken only by the strongest. Yet gan its co whose halting walk presaged that before another encampment shall have assembled, they will have joined the countless dead at rest under the "solemn pine, the tearful willow and the embracing vine." Nature seemed im-pressed with the significance of the participants and spectators. pressed with the significance of the past occasion.
